Product Description

Multi-layer Cage Free System with Sufficient Movement Platform

Our Cage Free System

The automatic feeding, drinking, manure removal, ventilation and cooling systems significantly reduce labor demands. This integrated automation enhances productivity and scientific design creates comfortable and natural living environment.

Multi-layer welfare breeding mode, on the premise of achieving enough exercise for chickens, meets the physiological and behavioral needs of chickens in the natural environment. It is not only equipped with perching poles, activity platform, egg-laying nests, but also equipped with facilities such as claw grinders and sand basins to further improve the welfare conditions for the survival of chickens. At the same time, it is equipped with multi-layer egg collection belts. All eggs automatically roll onto the egg collection belts, solving the problem of collecting eggs outside the nest.

The increased movement space allows chickens to move more freely, which promotes greater activity, robustness, and overall health.
