Partition net buckle: Each partition net is equipped with a metal buckle which attaches directly to the trough, which keeps even force distribution, high strength, and minimal deformation.

Cage nail: Stainless steel; It is a good way to fix the metal mesh quickly and firmly, suitable for occasions with high requirements for rust prevention and durability.

Our system effectively separates chickens from manure belt and cleans manure timely, significantly reducing contaminant and minimizing the risk of disease transmission. As a result, overall chicken mortality rates are substantially lowered.
