Product Description

6 Tiers Layer Chicken Cage Systems with Anti-Aging Materials for Algerian Farms

Farmrob's layer cages deliver a safe, low-stress habitat, combining anti-aging materials with scientific design. This results in exceptional structural integrity and corrosion resistance, reducing failure rates and maximizing profitability.

Optimal Design Features

Our cages feature an optimally sized mesh that prevents foot injuries and eliminates manure accumulation, ensuring egg cleanliness. The design provides ample room for movement, while the high-strength frame prevents deformation and collapse, ensuring long-term durability.

Integrated Control System

Farmrob's electric control cabinet includes controllers for feeding, drinking, egg collection, and manure removal. Ventilation components such as cooling pads, fans, and side windows are automatically regulated through this integrated system. All control cabinets are assembled in our specialized workshop to ensure reliable operation.

Fully Automatic Systems

- Automatic feeding system
