Product Description

Advanced and Ethical Multi-tier Cage Free System with Perches for European America Farms

Farmrob is dedicated to a "chicken-first" philosophy, designing poultry systems that place animal welfare at the core. The layer cages are constructed from high-strength alloy, ensuring exceptional sturdiness and long-term durability. Built to withstand harsh weather conditions, the cages are corrosion-resistant and will not rust. For several decades, we have been supplying modern poultry farming equipment to farm owners across the globe.

Multi-tier Aviary System Features

Globally recognized as an advanced practice in layer farming, our cage-free system aligns with modern animal welfare standards while maximizing space utilization and stimulating natural animal behaviors.

- Multi-tiered layout with perches, drinking and feeding lines at different levels to encourage natural bird behaviors
- Strategic nipple installation at nest box entrance to encourage nest use and reduce floor eggs
- Al-Zn alloy bottom net with smooth surface protects birds' feet and skin
- Open mesh structure promotes continuous manure fallout for improved hygiene
- Robust feed chain ensures consistent feed distribution for flock uniformity

System Benefits

Our system is designed to reduce stress and prevent abnormal behaviors in birds while maintaining a hygienic environment that minimizes pathogen accumulation. The durable construction guarantees long-term reliability for poultry farmers.
